

UNIVERSITY OF CAMBRIDGE

ONE-OFF QUEENS' SEMINAR

“Rebooting the Global Financial System by Bankrupting the Bad Banks”

Terry Barker and Ramona Meyricke
Department of Land Economy

Chair: Michael Kitson
Judge Business School

Thursday, 13th November 2008, 8pm-10pm*

Old Kitchens, Queens' College

The global financial system is in meltdown as a result of the follies of the investment banks over the last twenty years. The solutions adopted by governments, i.e. bail-outs and nationalisations, appear to be failing. This seminar will cover the causes and consequences of the crisis and will propose a seven-point plan for a systemic solution, with the first point being the bankrupting of the bad banks.

*8pm drinks; 8.30pm presentation.

Places are limited so turn up early to guarantee your seat

